

Information on International Maritime Management (M.Sc.) for the winter semester 2024

Dear (prospective) student,

Thank you very much for your interest in our Master's degree course: International Maritime Management. This message contains important information about the start of your first semester and how to start your studies smoothly and successfully.

Although it is possible to apply as well as to submit your documents until 15 September 2024, we strongly recommend to complete your application as soon as possible. Furthermore, we would kindly like to invite you herewith to our introductory attendance phase which will take place on Friday, 20 September 2024 from approximately 10 o'clock a.m. to 2:30 o'clock p.m. in Elsfleth. The event serves mainly for familiarisation purposes like getting to know each other as well as getting to know the learning management system, the digital library, the general approach of the distance degree course and the learning modules, discussing your questions, networking, etc. However, your participation is not obligatory. If you can not arrange your participation, for example, for the reason of being at sea, please get in touch with us for discussing the alternatives. Please do not see this as a reason for not completing your application. You will receive detailed information about the schedule plus travel information at a later stage. This will also include a separate invoice containing the module fees for your first learning module.

Should you have any further questions, please send us an e-mail to: imm@jade-hs.de

We look forward to welcoming you at Jade University of Applied Sciences in Elsfleth.

All the best,

Your IMM Team.
